Colombia blanks Canada to open Pan Am Cup

COLIMA, Mexico, August 3, 2025 – Colombia dominated Canada in straight sets (25-16, 25-15, 20) to open the 22nd Women's Pan American Volleyball Cup at the Colima Multifunctional Auditorium of the Sports Institute in Colima, Mexico.

Colombia outscored Canada in attacks 43-37 and in blocks 10-6. Guilherme Schmitz, Colombia coach: "We had a very good impression. There's always some initial nervousness, but we controlled the action very well. Our serve was very good, and we were able to control Team Canada's offense. In the third set, the Canadians came out stronger on serve, but we knew how to handle that situation. I'm very happy."

Matthew Krueger, Canada coach: "I think Colombia played a magnificent match. They're more experienced and a great volleyball team. In my opinion, we weren't ready to play today. I think we should have done more in training to prepare for this game, and that was evident. So we learned a lesson about what it takes to play at this level. I congratulate Colombia. They played good volleyball today."

We also went through many difficulties and are finding our team. I was very pleased, and a first victory in a championship like this is very important."

Manuel Torres, Cuba coach: "It was a very close match. Today is the first day, and the girls haven't played together for a good few months, and we've barely had time to prepare. but little by little, we hope they'll find their way and get back into their rhythm."

José Briceño, Costa Rica coach: "Well, starting against the host is always motivating and difficult at the same time. We have a very diverse group with four players who are just starting out in the senior division, and what we want in this tournament is for it to be a developmental opportunity for them and for those who have been in the senior division for a while to begin this level of competition for the Central American Games and the Final 4 in Costa Rica."
